This Open Enrollment, the University of Colorado can help get more mileage out of your benefits. Here are few quick things to know:

- Passive enrollment: If you would like to keep the same benefit choices, no action is required and you will be automatically re-enrolled. If you want to make a change, we'll provide many ways to learn about and compare plans.
  - There's one exception: You must actively enroll in Health Care and Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA) for plan year 2024-25.
- Now is a good time to consider other benefits: Do you need to update your beneficiaries, enroll in or adjust voluntary retirement contributions <sup>[2]</sup>, enroll in a Health Savings Account or make changes to your life insurance policies? Even though you can do these things anytime of year, Open Enrollment is a great time to take a closer look.
